Congregational News

Ian Scott, member of Calvin since 1969, died on December 1 at the age of 89. As Ian joins our great cloud of witnesses, please keep Rose Ann and all of Ian's family and loved ones in your prayers. A memorial service will be held at Calvin on January 17; the time is yet to be determined.

Candidates Forum Today

// Join us after the service

The Nominating Committee will host an informational meeting today at 11:30 am in the Fireside Room so you can learn more about what it means to be a spiritual leader within the church. We will discuss the specific requirements of serving as an elder or deacon at Calvin and give you the chance to ask questions of our pastor and other leaders.

In the coming weeks, please pray for the work of the Nominating Committee and that God would be working in the hearts of the Calvin leaders who will serve his church this coming year.

Holiday Season Crimes to Watch Out For

// Helpful information from the U.S. Postal Inspection Service

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service makes thousands of arrests for mail theft each year. While mail and packages can be stolen at any time, the higher volume of mail and packages during the holidays gives greedy thieves more opportunities to steal holiday cheer.

Sometimes, you might open your front door to find a package addressed to you, but you didn't order it and it is from someone or a company you don't know — beware! This seemingly free item is a "brushing" scam. Brushing scammers send you goods you never ordered and write fake online reviews about their products in your name, which helps boost their sales.

By law, unsolicited merchandise is yours to keep. You don't have to return it — or pay for it! But some of these "gifts" come with a QR code. When scanned, these QR codes direct you to websites that ask you to give up your personal information.

Help thwart postal crimes this holiday season:

- Don't scan unknown QR codes
- Don't give out your personal information to unknown sources
- The longer mail stays on your porch or in your mailbox, the more susceptible it is to theft. Hand outgoing mail to your letter carrier, mail it at the post office, or mail it from a secure receptacle at your place of business.
- Never send cash in the mail.
- If you are going to be away from your home, use a delivery locker or ask a trusted neighbor to pick up your mail and packages.
